Dear Coastal Dungeness Crab Fisher:

The purpose of this letter is to provide you with information regarding the opening of the 2013-2014 coastal Dungeness crab fishery in the area south of Klipsan Beach, Washington and preliminary information regarding the opening of the crab fishery in the area north of Klipsan Beach. Washington and Oregon completed the additional pre-season test fishing necessary to set the season opening date. The latest round of test fishing results indicate that crab condition criteria has been met in Washington and Oregon. The area between Klipsan Beach, Washington and Point Arena, California will open on December 16th with a gear set period beginning at 8:00 am on December 13, 2013. The area between Point Arena, CA and the Oregon-California border opened on December 1, 2013.

At this point, state-tribal harvest management agreements have been finalized with the Makah and Quileute Tribes, the terms of these agreements are the same as what was in place for the 2012-2013 season. Discussions with the Quinault Indian Nation (QIN) are on-going and as a result we have not finalized the details relative to the state season opening in the area north of Klipsan Beach, WA. We do know that the state season north of Klipsan Beach will not open before January 15, 2014. A follow up letter will be provided as soon as possible with complete information on the opening in this area.

We also want to remind you that any vessel that began fishing in the area between Point Arena, CA and the California/Oregon Border before December 16 will be delayed 30 days before being allowed to fish in the area between the Oregon-California border and Klipsan Beach, WA. This delay period will end at 12:01 AM on January 15, 2014.

Please be sure to familiarize yourself with the management measures described below before you begin your fishing operations and stay informed relative to additional changes.
