WASHINGTON COASTAL DUNGENESS CRAB INDUSTRY NOTICE

This is an update to let you know that the delay in the opening of the Washington commercial Dungeness crab fishery in the area south of Klispan Beach will continue. The specific date of when this area will open has not been determined.

Here is what we know:

- All crab tested recently tested in Washington were below the action level.
- Oregon is required to test more some crab samples for domoic acid and those results will not be available until sometime next week.
- At this time, Oregon is unable to support an opening of only a portion of their coast.
  - Without support for a line in Oregon, WDFW agreed to extend the delay and avoid the chaos that a small area opening would create.
- Washington, Oregon and California crab fishery managers will meet on Friday December 18 (or sooner) to make a decision on the opening south of Klipsan.
