Dear Coastal Dungeness Crab Fisher:

The purpose of this letter is to provide you with details on the 2015-16 Washington coastal Dungeness crab season opening. Policy makers from the Washington Department of Fish and Wildlife (WDFW), Oregon Department of Fish and Wildlife and the California Department of Fish and Wildlife met today to discuss the latest round of domoic acid testing and details regarding the opening of the coastal Dungeness crab fishery. As you know, the season opening has been delayed coastwide to collect domoic acid samples to ensure that when the crab fishery opens that crab coming into the market place will be safe and to provide for a coordinated season opening.

Domoic acid levels in crab sampled in Oregon and Washington is below the U.S Food and Drug Administration action levels and managers agreed to open the coast in areas where domoic acid is not an issue. As a result, the commercial fishery will open from Destruction Island, Washington to the Oregon-California border on January 4, 2016. A gear set period will precede the opening beginning at 8:00 am on January 1, see complete details below. The latest round of domoic acid tests in California continue to show domoic acid levels above health agency thresholds and the fishery in California will continue to be delayed.

Complete domoic acid testing results in crab can be found on our web site at: http://wdfw.wa.gov/fishing/commercial/crab/coastal/letters\_notices.html under general information on the right side of the page.

Season Opening

The commercial Dungeness crab fishery will open from Destruction Island, Washington (47° 40.50) to the Oregon-California border including Willapa Bay and Grays Harbor at 9:00 A.M. January 4, 2016.

- A 73-hour gear pre-set period starting at 8:00 A.M., January 1, 2016 will precede the opening.
- Vessel hold inspections will be conducted on January 3, 2016, starting at noon.
- Fishers can begin fishing in this area at 9:00 A.M. on January 4, 2016.
- It is permissible for a vessel not designated on a Dungeness crab coastal fishery license to transport or deploy up to 250 pots at any one time for deployment in the coastal crab fishery between Destruction Island, Washington (47° 40.50) the Washington / Oregon Border. The primary or alternate operator of the crab pot gear named on the license associated with the gear must be on board the vessel when the gear is being deployed. Such a vessel may deploy crab pot gear only during the 73-hour period immediately preceding the season opening date and during the 48-hour period immediately following the season opening date. All other provisions of the permanent rule remain in effect.

Please be sure to familiarize yourself with the management measures described below before you begin your fishing operations and stay informed relative to additional changes.

The area between Destruction Island and the U.S. - Canada border will not open prior to January 15, 2015. The harvest management plan with the Quileute Tribe includes a provision to ensure that there are twenty fishable days for Quileute fishers between December 1 and January 15, prior to opening the state fishery north of Destruction Island. Details regarding the opening north of Destruction Island will be provided in a future letter when the specific opening date has been determined.

Fair Start provisions will be in place for the delayed fishery in California. Vessels that participate in the fishery between the Oregon-California border and Destruction Island, including Willapa Bay and Grays Harbor, before the area south of the Oregon-California border opens, will not be allowed to fish south of Oregon-California border until 30-days after the California fishery opens.
