Pacific States Marine Fisheries Commission will be distributing relief money to California permit holders. Some fishermen have permits and landings in California and Oregon. If you have landings in both states, you will need to declare the same year (in both California and Oregon) for reimbursement of 'Lost Personal Income'. For example, you cannot declare your best year of landings in California as 2005 and best year of landings in Oregon as 2004.

You must decide which is your best combined year and use that year for both states.
