

Interim (development) Steering Committee

--Volunteers and Named Individuals to Date--

Comments from group re interim steering committee

- Interim Steering Committee – trying to get passionate people involved to do grunt work and set out the blueprint. Does not need to be all inclusive. This could just be interim. How big? Work backwards. Those involved need to commit time. Consider asking existing partnerships to participate on steering committee (help through their experience of what works)
- List everyone with potential interest; don't worry now about who will be on final steering committee
- What are the interim operating procedures?
- On interim steering committee might have people who need to go back to agency/boss. Then decision makers appoint people to be representative.

NGO Reps

Jena Carter, The Nature Conservancy

Carey Smith, Pacific Coast Joint Venture

Drew Kerr, Surfrider

Liz Rauer, Marine Conservation Biology Institute (TBD)

Mark Petrie, Ducks Unlimited

State Reps

Dave Price, Washington Department of Fish and Game

Kathy Taylor, Washington Department of Ecology

John Bragg, National Estuarine Research Reserve

Dan Avery, Oregon Department of Fish and Wildlife Representative

TBD, Alaska Department of Fish and Game

Stan Allen and Fran Recht, Pacific States Marine Fisheries Commission

Tribal Reps

Jason Robison, Coquille Tribe

Sarah Beesley, Yurok Tribe

TBD, Northwest Indian Fish Commission [Jeremy Gilman will get with NWIFC and find a designee]

Fed Reps

Dan Shively, U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service

Korie Schaeffer, NMFS (SW Region) - with assistance from Jeanne Hanson (Alaska Region) and

Mike Tehan (NW Region)