MORE INFORMATION:

The weekly trip limits are part of the Summer Fishery Management Plan that provides specific steps necessary to protect the Dungeness crab resource from handling mortality. The Plan also addresses the variability in the presence of soft-shelled crab from year to year through in-season monitoring. WDFW will continue to collect shell condition data through the remainder of the season both in dockside and in at-sea sampling and will take additional measures, following the Plan's testing protocols, if large numbers of soft-shelled crab are present. Permanent implementation of the 2,500-pound limit on July 1 has been in place since 2015. To avoid confusion, the weekly landing limit will always start on the first Sunday in July.
