SECTION 2: DESCRIPTION/SPECIFICATIONS/WORK STATEMENT

2.1 PURPOSE

It is the intent of this Request for Proposals (RFP) and resulting contract to establish an agreement for the professional services of a mobile application developer to create a cross-platform mobile application for fish identification.

2.2 BACKGROUND

RecFIN, the Recreational Fisheries Information Network is a project of the Pacific States Marine Fisheries Commission.

Established in 1992, the Pacific Coast Recreational Fisheries Information Network is designed to integrate state and federal marine recreational fishery sampling efforts into a single database to provide important biological, social, and economic data for Pacific coast recreational fishery biologists, managers and anglers.

The three Interstate Marine Fishery Commissions are critical to managing and conserving our shared coastal fisheries within the first three miles of the nation's coastline. The Commissions were formed as interstate compacts by the coastal states of the Atlantic, Pacific and Gulf of Mexico and chartered by the United States Congress in recognition that "fish do not adhere to political boundaries." The Commissions serve as a deliberative body, coordinating the conservation and management of the states shared near-shore fishery resources – marine, shell, and anadromous – for sustainable use.

To that effect, each of the West coast states randomly samples recreational anglers at various ocean access points to gather information about their completed fishing trip via an interview survey. Using the aggregated sample data, each state projects statistics for recreational fishing effort and catch. This data is merged into RecFIN, the coast wide recreational statistics database and utilized by fishery management personnel to better inform decision making. In addition, the sample data that each state collects is also stored in the RecFIN database aggregated by all of the states so that fishery statisticians can perform micro analyses that utilize the sample data.

During the angler interview, the ability to correctly identify the angler's catch and released fish is paramount to the accuracy and usability of the data collected in RecFIN. The West coast has such a vast array of different species, particularly rockfish, that proper identification is not always easy. The goal of this mobile application is to provide a visual aid to survey samplers and recreational fishing anglers to correctly identify the species of fish that they catch and release.

2.3 SCOPE OF WORK

PSMFC/RECFIN will contract with a single firm to provide the services described herein. Proposals shall fully address the scope of work below and include a description of all deliverables and activities.

PSMFC expects to award a contract by August 19, 2015. It is anticipated the contract term shall be for six months and will include services to design and construct a cross-platform mobile application for identifying fish species recreationally caught along the Pacific coast, following the description of the user needs and structural elements provided in section 2.4.

2.4 FISH IDENTIFICATION MOBILE APPLICATION TECHNICAL REQUIREMENTS

The goal of the fish identification mobile application is to provide an app that can be used on any smartphone or tablet so that a sampler/angler can quickly and easily navigate through some information to enable them to correctly identify fish that they have caught and/or released.

The fish identification mobile application must meet the following objectives:

- Cross-platform – Since this application will be available to all anglers, it must be built to use in multiple mobile operating systems. Though the targeted hardware would be an iPhone or smartphone, it also must accommodate the use on an iPad or tablet as well. Perhaps development within a PhoneGap or Xamarin environment would be optimal.
- Stand-Alone – This application must be engineered to operate independently of an internet connection.
- Navigation – The angler should be able to navigate through the menu choices by simply touching buttons, free from the need to type anything into a text field. Similar applications that are available have used a jQuery format, which seems to work well.
- Attributes – The first levels of identification will be through selecting through a sequence of physical attributes regarding the fish's appearance (color, fin structure, patterns, etc.)
- Photos/Visual aids – Final stages of identification should incorporate photographic samples of prospective species matches and possibly some annotation that highlight specific visual features that differentiate one species from another.
- Content Utility – Some of the lower level content will need to be updated periodically. Ideally, we would like to have an administrative utility built in so that we (as administrators) can add photos, descriptions, etc. We do not anticipate the need to make changes to the general menu structure. We do not want the general user population to have this same ability.

The ownership, source code, copyrights, maintenance, and editorial control of the Fish Identification mobile application will remain with PSMFC.

2.5 AUDIENCE

The users of the Fish Identification mobile application can be defined by the following groups.

Administrators: We would like to have a special case of user authorization so that a small group of associates in our office can make small content changes regularly, such as adding additional photos, editing descriptive text, etc. (see Content Utility requirement above)

Survey Samplers: These are the state biological samplers who conduct the interviews with anglers who have been fishing via a paper and pencil survey. This includes asking the angler about the fish they have caught and then released and also observing the fish that the angler has retained. The sampler records the species caught and the number of fish of that species that have been caught/released. Though the samplers are well trained in their ability to identify anglers' catch, they will use this app as a type of "pocket reference" to look up distinguishing features and to view a series of photos of a given species. The samplers will also be able to use this application to show the anglers photos and help them in properly identifying the species of the fish that they released.

Anglers: When coupled with a campaign to make recreational anglers aware of the importance of correctly identifying the fish that they catch, anglers will be able to use this app to identify the fish that they catch, determine whether it is a species they can retain, and accurately inform the survey samplers what species of fish they caught.

2.6 EXAMPLES

There are two examples of similar work that we are aware of that can be viewed for reference:

- 1) Wisconsin Fish ID Mobile App: Available for Android and iOS. It can be found at: <http://www.seagrants.wisc.edu/home/Default.aspx?tabid=615>
- 2) EP Fish: This is an iOS only app that also demonstrates the functionality that we are interested in.

3.4.6 Late proposals

3.4.6.1 Any proposal, modification, or revision at the PSMFC office designated in the solicitation after the exact time specified for receipt to offers is "late" and will not be considered unless it is received before award is made, the PSMFC Fiscal Manager determines that accepting the late offer would not unduly delay the acquisition; and

3.4.6.2 There is acceptable evidence to establish that it was received at the PSMFC installation designation for receipt of offers and was under the PSMFC's control prior to the time set for receipt to offers; or

3.4.6.3 It is the only proposal received.

3.4.6.4 However, a late modification of an otherwise successful proposal that makes its terms more favorable to the PSMFC, will be considered at any time it is received and may be accepted.

3.4.6.5 Acceptable evidence to establish time of receipt at the PSMFC installation includes the time/date stamp of that installation on the proposal wrapper, other documentary evidence of receipt maintained by the installation, or oral testimony or statements of PSMFC personnel.

3.4.6.7 Proposals may be withdrawn by written notice received at any time before award. Proposals may be withdrawn in person by an offer or an authorized representative, if the identity of the person requesting withdrawal is established and the person signs a receipt for the proposal before award.

3.4.7 Proposers shall submit proposals in response to this solicitation in English and in U.S. dollars.

3.4.8 Proposers may submit modifications to their proposals at any time before the solicitation closing date and time, and may submit modifications in response to an amendment, or to correct a mistake at any time before award.

3.4.9 Proposers may submit revised proposals only if requested or allowed by PSMFC.

3.4.10 Proposals may be withdrawn at any time before award. Withdrawals are effective upon receipt of notice by the Fiscal Manager.

3.4.11 Each Proposal must state that it is a firm offer which may be accepted within a period of ninety (90) days. Although the contract is expected to be awarded prior to that time, the ninety day period is requested in order to allow for unforeseeable delays.

3.4.12 Proposer shall submit the name, address, and telephone number of the person(s) with the authority to bind the firm, as well as to answer questions or provide clarification concerning the firm's proposal.

3.4.13 PSMFC is not liable for any costs incurred by vendors/contractors in developing or submitting their response to this RFP.

An award will be made to the Proposer whose offer is judged to be the most advantageous to PSMFC. PSMFC expressly reserves the right to reject any and all proposals and make no award under this RFP, or to negotiate separately with competing vendors.

3.6.2 Process. All Proposals received in accordance with these RFP instructions will be reviewed, analyzed, evaluated and scored in accordance with the criteria described below. If needed, additional information may be requested from one or more Proposers. Interviews will be conducted with the top scoring Proposers. Following the initial interview, review will be conducted by PSMFC Staff. Selections will then be made for a second round of interviews.

3.6.3 Request for additional information. During the evaluation period, PSMFC may request additional information in order to fairly evaluate a Proposer's offer. If such information is required, the Proposer will be notified in writing (or by email) and will be permitted a reasonable period of time to respond.

Unbalanced prices exists when, despite an acceptable total evaluated price, the price of one or more contract line items is significantly overstated or understated as indicated by the application of cost or price analysis techniques. A proposal may be rejected if the PSMFC Fiscal Manager determines that the lack of balances poses an unacceptable risk to the PSMFC.

Remedies – The PSMFC Fiscal Manager may terminate the contract for convenience, in whole or in part, if it deems such termination necessary to avoid an organizational conflict of interest. If the Proposer was aware of a potential organizational conflict of interest prior to award or discovered an actual or potential conflict after award and did not disclose or misrepresented relevant information to the PSMFC Fiscal Manager, PSMFC may terminate the contract for default, debar the Proposer from PSMFC contracting, or pursue such other remedies as may be permitted by law.

Approval of the insurances evidenced or the Accord Certificate by PSMFC shall not relieve or decrease the extent to which the Contractor or subcontractor of any tier may be held responsible for payment or any and all damages resulting from its operations. Contractor shall be responsible for all losses not covered by the policy irrespective of no Certificates Filed, expired Certificates, Approved Certificates or for any reason whatsoever.

Sufficiency of Insurance. The insurance limits or coverages required by PSMFC are not represented as being sufficient to fully protect the Contractor. Contractor is advised and responsible to determine its own adequate coverage or limits for the Contractor/subcontractor.

Qualifications. Insurance companies shall be legally authorized to engage in the business of furnishing insurance in the State of the exposure. All insurance companies shall have a current A.M. Best Rating not less than "A-" and shall be satisfactory to PSMFC.

Modify Insurance Requirements. PSMFC reserves the option, at any time, to require additional Insurance to be provided by Contractor or subcontractor or to otherwise revise the requirements for provided insurance. Any such action shall be deemed a directed change entitling the Contractor/Subcontractor to an increase for the costs incurred due to such change.

Contractor/Subcontractor shall provide all such information or records as may be required or helpful in determining additional costs.

If Contractor cannot meet the insurance terms/condition herein, would like to exclude the insurance costs from their bid, and would like to employ the use of direct brokerage services, Contractor may request PSMFC to assign an insurance broker that is ready to meet the insurance requirements herein. The appointment of an insurance broker shall not relieve Contractor of any duties or liabilities under the contract.
