Funding Opportunity Description

Summary

The Pacific States Marine Fisheries Commission (PSMFC), in cooperation with the National Oceanic Atmospheric Administration (NOAA) and the Alaska Department of Fish and Game (ADF&G), will be issuing approximately $2.5 million in grants to fund projects that further our understanding of the cause of the 2018 Chignik Sockeye Salmon fishery failure, better understand the abundance and ecology of Chignik Sockeye Salmon, improve the ability of resource managers to identify future poor runs, understand the socioeconomic impacts of the fishery failure on communities in the region, and help managers and communities avoid and mitigate the impacts of future Chignik Sockeye Salmon fishery disasters that cannot be prevented.

Funding is available for up to 3 years and research must be completed by 07/31/2025.

High priority will be given to research topics that: a) evaluate the influence of freshwater or marine conditions on the productivity of Chignik Sockeye Salmon and effects of these processes on the commercial and subsistence fishery and b) provide information on the socioeconomic impacts of the fishery failure. Priority will also be given to research that is comparable to existing available data.

Three areas of interest include:

1. Investigate freshwater and marine processes that drive Sockeye Salmon production and mortality.

- Environmental effects on production of smolt and/or adult Sockeye Salmon from the Chignik system.
- Trophic relationships affecting growth and survival.
- Changes in watershed geomorphology and hydrology on productivity of Black and Chignik lakes.

2. Investigate Sockeye Salmon movement, growth, and habitat use in freshwater and near-shore marine environments.

- Causes and implications of change in size-at-age.
- Changes in smolt outmigration and/or adult run timing.
- Describe habitat use across migration routes.
- Interactions of Chignik Lake and Black Lake stocks within the Chignik system.

3. Systematically research the socioeconomic effects of fishery disasters on subsistence users in the region related to food security, food replacement, community changes and other concerns as a result of the fishery disaster including the relationships between commercial and subsistence fishing.

The Pacific States Marine Fisheries Commission (PSMFC) will be issuing approximately $2.5 million in grants to qualified projects.

Eligible Applicants

Researchers at U.S. academic institutions, research laboratories, for-profit companies/firms, nonprofits, and state agencies are all eligible. Proposals from foreign entities are not eligible. Proposals involving multiple investigators are welcome. Any U.S. federal government agencies, including Regional Fishery Management Councils are not eligible to receive funding through this solicitation.

Application and Submission Information

PRE-PROPOSAL APPLICATION

Pre-proposals are due by 5:00 p.m. PST on May 13, 2022 to marredondo@psmfc.org

Initial proposals (2-page limit) will allow the Pacific States Marine Fisheries Commission along with the Alaska Department of Fish and Game and the Review Panel to assess research proposals in relation to identified research priorities and available funding. The Review Panel will include representatives from the subsistence, commercial, and scientific communities.

Pre-proposals should include the following information:

- Name of applicant and contact information
- Title of project
- Brief discussion of the focal topic and approach
- Approximate funding to be requested

An individual may submit more than one pre-proposal but only one project may be funded to the lead PI. However, lead PIs may act as co-PIs and partners on other projects being considered.

If selected for further consideration, applicants will be asked to fill out a full proposal.

FULL PROPOSALS CONTENT

The full proposal format must be in at least a 12-point font. Brevity will assist reviewers and program staff in dealing effectively with proposals. Tables and visual materials, including charts, graphs, maps, photographs and other pictorial presentations are included in the 5-page proposal limit. Data management plans and/or access agreements as well as budgets and justifications, project summary, and previous, current and pending support sections do not count towards the page limit. D. Conflict of Interest

A conflict of interest exists when financial interests or other opportunities for tangible personal or professional benefit could influence or appear to influence the professional judgment of a member of the Proposal Review Committee. Improper influence could be used to not only advance one's own research program, but also to unfairly promote a family member's, colleague's or former student's program. Thus, care must be exercised to avoid a conflict of interest during the proposal review process and the discussion of past, current or proposed research. A conflict of interest also exists when circumstances simply have the appearance of compromising the professional judgement of a member of the Proposal Review Committee. It is the policy of PSMFC that conflicts of interest or the appearance of conflicts of interest shall be avoided wherever possible and disclosed and minimized in situations where interests cannot be reasonably separated. Whenever a conflict of interest arises during discussions of the Proposal Review Committee, the member in question shall disclose the possible conflict and excuse themselves from the discussion.
